Stephen A. Millington joined Rosenberg & Estis in 2020 and is Counsel with the firm's Transactions Department.

Millington represents landlords, tenants, developers, and property managers in commercial real estate transactions throughout the United States. Much of Millington's practice is concentrated in the commercial leasing arena, where he provides his legal expertise in the complex New York City real estate market to clients of all types. Representing landlords and tenants alike, he advises clients from both a legal and business perspective on all aspects of their transactions involving office, industrial, and retail properties, including leases, guaranties, management agreements, brokerage and agency agreements, sublease and license agreements, surrender agreements, letters of intent, and construction agreements.

Millington's experience working with retailers has given him an appreciation of the nuances of retail operations. He has facilitated retail rollouts for major brands in malls, lifestyle centers, and stand-alone stores on a busy urban street. He also represents owners of many Class A office and mixed-use buildings in New York City and across the country, offering his extensive legal experience in office, retail, flagship store leasing, and luxury hotel and restaurant deals.

Millington received his bachelor's degree from Dartmouth College in 2011 and his J.D. from New York University School of Law in 2014. Before joining Rosenberg & Estis, Millington was an Associate with Winston & Strawn LLP.
